OUR IMPACT

▶ INNOVATING FOR HUMANITY

Led by students at Dartmouth College, this national initiative engages students in developing technical solutions for Humanity First's core programs. Current projects include a specialized water filter for Disaster Relief, a custom EMR system for Gift of Health missions, and a multiplex waterborne pathogen strip for the Water For Life program.

Multiplex Waterborne Pathogen Strip

Multiplex Waterborne Pathogen Strip

A paper-based tool designed to detect multiple waterborne pathogens simultaneously from a single sample.

Low-Cost Testing: Developed for communities with limited laboratory infrastructure to provide immediate results for households and clinicians.

Informed Care: Enables faster identification of contaminated sources, supporting safer water use and better clinical treatment decisions.

Electronic Medical Records System

Electronic Medical Record (EMR) System

Replaces paper records with a secure, encrypted platform to manage patient data during mobile medical clinics.

Epidemiology Dashboard: Features a specialized interface for doctors to track disease trends and adjust community treatment plans in real-time.

Proven Impact: Successfully piloted during a Humanity First mission in Guatemala, efficiently managing over 100 patients per day.

Water Filtration Project

Low-cost, household filtration system designed to remove microbial contaminants from drinking water.

Comprehensive Protection: Complements diagnostic work by actively reducing pathogen exposure in areas with unreliable infrastructure.

Integrated Health: Works alongside the Pathogen Strips and EMR system to create a holistic approach to public health and safer water access.
